Hennessy

COGNAC

THE WORLDS LEADING COGNAC HOUSE

THE HOUSE WAS ESTABLISHED IN 1765 BY RICHARD HENNESSY, AN IRISHMAN.

SINCE 1800, SEVEN GENERATIONS OF THE FILLIOUX FAMILY HAVE WORKED AS HENNESSY MASTER BLENDERS.

TODAY, YANN FILLIOUX CONTINUES THIS TRADITION.

HENNESSY HAVE THE LARGEST AND OLDEST RESERVE OF AGED EAUX-DE-VIE OF ANY SINGLE COGNAC HOUSE

Cognac is made exclusively from grapes. It comes from a clearly defined region of France, around the town of Cognac. Its outstanding environment is unique in the world. With its chalky, stony soil and sunny temperate climate the region is perfect for vine growing. The traditional vineyard of the cognac region is divided into six growing areas (crus in French), each with its different characteristics. To ensure the exceptional quality of its cognacs, Hennessy uses only eaux-de-vie from the first four crus - those which have the best topsoil and very chalky subsoil. A great Hennessy cognac is the result of many eaux-de-vie of different origins and ages, and with various characteristics, that are assembled over time by the master blender.

25ml

VS

£4.50

In 1865, Maurice Hennessy, determined to devise a universally recognised classification, created a system which would be adopted by the entire profession. This is the origin of the 'Three Stars' Cognac now called 'VS' (Very Special). Hennessy VS is a blend of over 40 eaux-de-vie from the four premier Cognac regions or 'Crus' selected for their liveliness and full body, and is aged for between 3 and 8 years. Hennessy VS is characterised by a pronounced aroma of oak followed by a light aroma of hazelnuts. It has a rich and floral taste on the palate, notably red berries and persistent hints of vanilla. Hennessy VS is traditionally drunk after a meal, but is also popular for long drinks, with water, soda, or dry ginger ale.

FINE DE COGNAC

£5.00

A fine and delicate VSOP (Very Special old Pale), harmoniously composed of 50-60 eaux-de-vie aged for between 4 and 10 years. Sourced mainly from the Fins Bois region, one of the four Grand Crus of Cognac. VSOP is aged in old barrels to retain its aromatic qualities. On the palate aromas develop into brioche and grilled almonds, with a rich finale of spices and honey

XO

£12.50

In 1870, Maurice Hennessy created XO (Extra Old), reserved solely for the consumption of his family and close friends. However, XO is composed of several hundred eaux de vie originating from the regions' four premier crus (Grande Champagne, Petite Champagne, Borderies, and Fins Bois) and aged for a period of 10 to 30 years. Hennessy XO would not be XO without the famous bottle which is easily recognisable as being decorated with vine shoots. Hennessy XO remains the original, the authentic, the recognised symbol of a great traditional Cognac.

PARADIS

£25.00

Hennessy Paradis is the product of successive blends of several hundred eaux-de-vie aged for between 25 and 130 years and brought to their peak by succeeding generations of Cellar Masters from the Fillioux family. Coppery gold in colour, beautiful tear reminiscent of old concentrated cognacs the texture is soft and velvety. A rich and complex cognac aroma. Spicy notes are softened by a floral aroma expressing finesse and elegance. Slight hints of cardamom and cinnamon, with aromas of crystallised fruit following the fragrance of dry roses. In perfect harmony on the palate, mellow and round, with exceptional persistence. Its character, finesse and delicate 'rancio' flavours give it a wonderful balance.

RICHARD

£75.00

With the aim of giving his legacy to future generations, Richard Hennessy decided to set aside his most exceptional cognacs for his successors. Since 1745, 'Richard' has combined all the qualities of a truly classic cognac. Presented in an exquisite decanter, 'Richard' is one of the purest cognacs available, blended from a select number of the world's finest and oldest (up to 200 years) eaux-de-vie.

ELLIPSE

£350.00

Since 1800, each of the seven successive Hennessy master blenders have descended from the Fillioux family. Each blender carefully noted the most exceptional eaux-de-vie and highlighted it in his prized tasting notebook. These seven eaux-de-vie, and the Hennessy tradition of excellence, have given rise to Hennessy ellipse, a superb cognac with subtle balanced aromas that Hennessy has chosen to offer to devotees of rare cognacs.
